Holland Fire History And Firefighting

THIS WEEK IS FIRE PREVENTION WEEK; ALSO ANNIVERSARY OF BIG FIRE OF 1871

Holland Had Crude Fire Fighting Apparatus in the Early Days; Today It Is Second to None with Motorized Equipment.

All this week is fire prevention week throughout the nation. This is a presidential mandate and has been for a number of years, and it is a good mandate. It reminds us that being careful prevents our best friend from being our worst enemy. Humanity could not live without fire, kept within bounds, but at the same time humanity perishes when fire gets beyond these bounds.

It is rather a coincidence that fire prevention week falls due on the week of the anniversary of the great Holland fire in '71, and also the Chicago fire during the same week on October 8, when Mrs. O'Leary's cow kicked over the lantern that destroyed the greater part of Chicago with a toll of lives that could never be estimated.

The Holland City News has repeatedly given the story, how on the 10th of October, 1871, the city was laid in ashes when a fierce forest fire was swept into it by a heavy wind. That calamity is now long past. Upon those ruins a new city has been built. Our streets, parks, public buildings, industry and homes speak for themselves. Each year we see newer indications of progress, indicative of a more substantial and beautiful Holland has arisen on the ashes of an infant city in 1871.

Future years, we hope, can bring to us still greater blessings—the fruits of the eventful past.

The story of the fire of '71 is well-known to the news readers. Woods fires all around sent sparks into the dried-up swamp at the foot of the present hospital hill. The underbrush and the dried swamp grass burned like tinder, sweeping down what is now Pine avenue, burning Third Reformed church.

From East Pine street it swept on through the dwelling district, near the business section. Everything was burned in the downtown district and north. River street, too, was destroyed.

The fire stopped to the east, the last dwelling burning on the site of the Holland theatre. The large marsh to the north and east of the city halted the flames and when the fire had burned itself out, nothing but smoldering ruins indicated the spot where a city had stood.

There was but one death, a Mrs. Tolk, who lived in a small house on Ninth street, just east of Pine street.

Holland had very little fire protection in those days—bucket brigades and one old hand engine, constituting the entire protection.

Holland's fire-fighting forces have undergone many changes since that great conflagration. When the city installed two hand engines, the citizens were indeed proud to think of their wonderful equipment.

These were peculiar looking machines with two long handles on each side, and at every fire volunteers quickly handed the pumps, fifteen on each side. It was a regular marathon, fresh lookers on taking the places of exhausted pumps.

At that time one hand pump was located under the Ken's home just east of the Holland theatre. The other was located on the northwest corner of Centennial park, then called "public square," where a frame building with a fire bell on top, housed the firemen, and the mayor and common council.

The jail attached, was a crude affair and there was also a small building which housed the cannon, relic of the Civil war, used on stated occasions such as Fourth of July and at times when great men of the nation passed away and eulogies were in order. The cannon served this purpose after Garfield's assassination, the death of General U. S. Grant and other illustrious men. The buildings in question were burned some fifty years ago.

Anyway, these hand pumps were of little use unless water was available, so the city fathers of those days built deep wells in the street made of brick. In all there were some ten when that men of the nation passed away and eulogies were in order. The cannon served this purpose after Garfield's assassination, the death of General U. S. Grant and other illustrious men. The buildings in question were burned some fifty years ago.

The trouble with these wells was that they seldom held any water. During the summer dry season, the wells, too, were absolutely dry. Homes and factories near Black lake, Tannery creek and Jonker's creek were in luck, for the suction hose of the handpumps would find some water with which to put out the fire if it hadn't proceeded too far.

Your editor remembers one fire where the hand pumps did valiant work. This was when fire broke out in Ballard's tannery, located at that time on Tannery creek on Tenth street, half way between Maple and what is now Washington boulevard. The tannery was completely burned, however.

In those days the alarm was given. First the fire bell at "public square" began its rapid ringing. This was taken up by the Ninth Street Christian Reformed church bell, mingled with the short blasts from the Cappon-Bertsch Leather company, then the official fire alarmist. This soon brought the whole town out and the whistles and bells brought the cry of "fire," from every lip. A fire during the night was the end of any

HOPE COLLEGE PULL HAS JUST BEEN PULLED OFF

As the News goes to press the postponed annual pull took place on the banks of Black river. The sophomores pulled the freshmen through the stream after a tough battle. This is always an outstanding event in college activities shortly after school opens. The time was postponed for ten days since the water was high and murky. Anyway the winning class came down town with a long cable that serves the purpose from year to year.

sleep, at least for that night. The city authorities soon found that wells were entirely inadequate. They then installed drive wells near public buildings and factories on lake fronts. These drive wells were guaranteed to give enough water to supply a hand pump by attaching the suction hose. This method, too, was far from satisfactory.

One of these suction hydrants, a peculiar looking affair, still stands on the curb at Froebel school on Tenth street, toward the east of the schoolyard. It is a relic that should be preserved. It is the only one left in the city that your editor knows of.

The firemen of 55 years ago were more spectacular than those of today. Father Leendert Mulder belonged to the "Star Ladder Co.," an auxiliary of "Eagle Hose Co.," located in the town house at public square. These firemen all came out decked in large helmets, red and blue shirts, a fireman's belt, a fireman's boots, a rubber coat, and a fireman's trumpet, with a big mouthpiece and red tassels attached thereto. As a rule they came out in full regalia at every fire. It would seem that a fire would have been pretty well spent by the time the firemen got dressed for the event. Anyway, that's the way it was, and were the boys proud?

Besides "Eagle Hose Co." on the west end of town, the "Columbia Hose Co." was at the east end, as we said before, in the Kanter's building.

Approximately 55 years ago there were drastic changes in our fire-fighting set-up. At that time Holland's water works was built and the direct pressure system was installed. We still have that direct pressure system today, considerably enlarged, augmented by a motorized system of pumps. But a half century ago Holland was elated, the hand pumps were sold for junk and hose carts were installed.

Columbia Hose Co. No. 2 had one with bells on springs and a large oil lamp that looked much like a large campaign torch of torchlight days. Engine house No. 1 had the largest hose reel with a gong on it. They were two-wheeled affairs drawn by man power attached to long ropes. Just like the hand pumps, were. It was rather a laughable sight to see these hose carts swinging down the street, wobbling to and fro like the front wheels of a kiddie car. All that was necessary in those days was to attach the hose to a hydrant, turn on the water and there was plenty to put out most any ordinary fire.

As the town grew, man power was impossible, and the common council made arrangements with a drayman, Jake De Feyter, to attach his dray to one of the carts and have him pull the alarm. The firemen would go on the dray holding the ropes that were attached to the cart. That was Holland's first horse-drawn fire department.

Some 35 years ago hose wagons were purchased. Fine spans of horses were placed at each station, the buildings being remodeled to accommodate the equines. The stations were in the same buildings which are now occupied by the trucks and for those days when horse-drawn vehicles were in vogue Holland had excellent fire departments, hose wagons and chemical appliances. The black team was made. It even went so far as legal proceedings, but our minority report, and a friendly common council brought the purchase of the first American-La France fire pump.

So satisfied were the citizens with this fire fighting apparatus that a few years later they voted almost unanimously for two larger and better trucks. Since this was added, it is needless to review the efficiency of this motorized apparatus. For nearly 20 years their worth has been conclusively demonstrated almost weekly. From time to time new additions have been made. Besides the direct pressure waterworks, the augmenting of the pumps and the chemical department has made Holland about as immune from fire as is possible to make any city.

Chief Blom, who has been a fire fighter for 51 years, 27 years as chief and assistant chief, has seen the evolution of Holland's fire department. His story is most interesting. It is a surprise, no doubt to many citizens, how well protected they are. Besides a dozen streams that are thrown into a building, the department has two large nozzles made stationary on the trucks to reach the engine house. It will be remembered that one of these were used on the De Pree Chemical Co. building on River avenue some years ago, when the two stories took fire and it was noised around that there were explosives in the basement. These 1,100 gallons per minute were poured into the building and the structure soon became a veritable Niagara. Most of the building was saved and no chance was given the fire to reach the chemicals that would have exploded.

NATIONAL FIRE PREVENTION WEEK

On pages 2 and 3 of section 2 of this issue will be found many announcements relative to National Fire Prevention Week. A message from Mayor Bosch, advice from our able Chief Blom, and pictorial object lessons, causes of many serious fires are shown. Citizens are advised to keep these common causes in mind, for by being careful, real fire prevention is practiced. Remember page 2 and 3, section 2.

BOY SCOUTS DRIVE TO BEGIN TUESDAY; GOAL IS $2,500

The annual Boy Scout drive is again to be launched in Holland this year, and a committee is now being chosen, under the leadership of W. L. Eaton.

Mr. Eaton has always taken a keen interest in Boy Scout work and has done much to foster the cause locally and otherwise. Although a number of the committee-men have already been selected and preliminary work has been started, the complete list of helpers is not yet made up. Mr. Eaton, however, states that the organization will be completed this week, and that the men will be out bright and early Tuesday morning of next week, October 15. The campaign will continue until November 1, which gives the men two weeks to contact prospective members.

The drive this year is to be for $2,500. Holland has always gone "over the top" in campaigns of this type when the cause was a worthy one, and Mr. Eaton and his co-workers feel assured that local citizens will again give generously this year.

Boy Scout work in Holland has grown tremendously in the past few years, and hundreds of youngsters, members of the organization, are learning better through the Boy Scout organization "how to be a good American citizen." That is the aim of the "Boy Scouts" to make clean, good men, loyal to home and country.

The Beechwood Boostettes met Wednesday night in the school and plans were made for a Halloween party. Volley ball was played and refreshments were served.

Mrs. Anna Gebeck, who celebrated her birthday Tuesday was honored at a party given by Mrs. Melva Rowan. Games were played and prizes awarded to B. Rowan and the honored guest.

The unfortunate man, Wiemers of East Saugatuck, who was so terribly gored by a Jersey bull, died Friday of his injuries. Note: In the early days there were many deaths from bull goring before the gentleman cow was being governed by methods that made the bull safe in a bull pen, now common on many farms.

Marshall Ed Vaupel has wisely decided to arrest every rowdy and loafer found "holding down" street corners on Sunday evenings hereafter. The practice on the part of the boys of the city has become a festering nuisance and the sooner it is stopped the better it will be for the reputation of our fair city. Note: A few years later lads bled-chad church doors and wholesale arrests were made to stop this Sunday nuisance. Then the motor car came and girls were accosted along the streets by young snobs who invited them for a ride. This, too, was stopped through many arrests that followed.

The contract for erecting a life-saving station at Holland was let to Mastek & Newcombe of Manistee for $5,510. There were other bidders, including "Heine" Te Reller, $7,575. Construction will be soon.

BOONE OF ZEELAND KILLED WHEN RETURNING FROM CHURCH

Cornelius Boone of Zeeland, 81 years old, was killed instantly last Sunday night when he was struck by an automobile on East Washington street. He was rushed to Huizenga Memorial hospital but it was found he had passed away when the ambulance arrived there.

Mr. Boone had been in attendance at the Free Methodist church Sunday evening and was on his return home when the accident occurred. He rode part of the way home in the car driven by Marius De Jonge, but when they arrived at the De Jonge home on East Washington street he insisted on walking home from there. He had just alighted from the De Jonge car when he was struck by a passing automobile.

The car figuring in the fatal accident was driven by Ernest Bell, 221 West Sixteenth street, Holland, who was returning home from Grand Rapids, and had reached that point at about 9:30 o'clock. Mr. Boone was struck by the car traveling about 25 miles, according to Coroner Gilbert Vande Water, who pronounced it purely accidental, and said there would be no inquest held after investigating and hearing those witnessing the accident.

Mr. Boone was survived by his widow, one son, Clarence Boone of Holland, and one daughter, Mrs. Gertrude Bosman, formerly of Holland, now of Miami, Fla.; also eight grandchildren.

The funeral services were held on Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock at Baron Funeral home, and 2:30 o'clock at the Free Methodist church, Rev. Charles Carnahan officiating. Interment was in Zeeland cemetery.

Mr. Boone was married to Miss Anna Kleis, who conducted a millinery business in Zeeland for many years. Since his marriage he has always made his home in that city.

In his early manhood he was engaged with his father in the business of buying and selling of livestock and butchering, which vocation he followed for many years.

Henry Johnson, a laborer at the Hamilton brickyard, has set the record of making the most mileage on a single gallon of gasoline. Johnson bet $50 against $25 that he could make 25 miles or more on one gallon of gas. To prove it he went from Hamilton to Grand Rapids. After making the distance Johnson found that in going 88 miles he used only two gallons, averaging 44 miles on one gallon. Note: That's what the News said 15 years ago. Please page Henry Ford so he can pig up this find of a decade and a half ago. Such cars sure would be detrimental to the ever increasing oil stations.

Rev. W. Trapp, formerly of Zeeland, now of Grand Rapids, preached his farewell sermon to his congregation Sunday and will go to Ann Arbor to take a post-graduate work in philosophy at Michigan university. He will be assistant to Dr. Wenley, very able faculty member.

Fully 1,000 people saw the sophomore class of Hope college take an impromptu bath in Black river when the freshman class won the annual tug-of-war across the stream. One by one the 25 sophomores were pulled through the deepest part of the river. Some "soph" were thoroughly "sopped" when they lost their footing and nearly got water on the brain.

Among the Ottawa county jury members for circuit court duty are Jerry Leapple, and Albert Hoeksema of Holland and William De Pree and W. Karsten of Zeeland.

Mrs. Bernice Jones won the medal in the contest held at the home of Mrs. R. N. De Merrell Friday in a reading entitled "The Heighthorn Over the Bridge." Miss Ada Oxner, Master Ray Piken and John C. Post also contested for medals. The contest was staged by the W. C. T. U.

A dog scrap was responsible for the destruction of the Drost house, one of the oldest landmarks in the city. The place was occupied by H. Bouwvel, a bachelor, and when he returned home at midnight, he lighted the lamp, but two canines, each anxious to greet his master first, became involved in a fight and overturned the lamp. The flames were soon beyond control. The house was built in 1863, through funds sent from the battle-fought through the Civil war, without being wounded once. Strange to say, in civil life he was instantly killed in an accidental collision with a Grand Rapids hose wagon going to a fire.

Holland's Fire Crew and Hose Ladder Truck of Yesteryear Decorated for a 4th of July Parade

Rain Does Not Dampen Ardor Of Celebration

NEARLY 5,000 GATHERED ON FIRST DAY; GUESTS SECOND DAY CAME DESPITE DOWNPOUR. MAYOR VEREEKE OPENS EVENT

Zeeland's homecoming and fall festival officially opened yesterday at 1:30. When Mayor David Vereeke cut the ribbon that had been stretched across Main street, official celebration in connection with the widening and improvement of that street of our neighboring city was opened. The mayor gave greetings of welcome.

Despite threatening weather of the first day and heavy rains in the evening and a continuation of rainy weather today the large crowds are cheerful and take rain drops, at this time of the year, as a matter of course.

Addressees of the day were made by Prosecuting Attorney John R. Dethmers; Ottawa county FERA administrator, Miss Deborah Veneklasen, and Supt. Gerrit P. Rooks, under whose direction the work was done.

In the afternoon and evening free acts will be staged on the midway. A championship softball game was held on Wednesday and Thursday afternoon. On Friday afternoon the high school will battle East Grand Rapids in a football game at the stadium. On Friday evening and on Saturday afternoon the celebration will be held in the city hall auditorium with more than 3,000 entries on exhibition. The fair is under the direction of Otto Pino.

All space on the midway has been sold and the homecoming and festival will be the largest in the history of Zeeland. The evening entertainment will include a musical comedy staged by the American Legion and auxiliary. On the opening day of the celebration former mayors, and officials from western Michigan took part in the celebration as well as several state officials. Mayor Bosch of Holland was unavoidably absent since he has been ill since last Friday. He sends his regrets.

The Farmers' union took part in the parade at 10:30 a. m. and the lumber company ground on Wednesday at 1:45 and Thursday at 12:45. The union is one of the largest farmer organizations in western Michigan. The Holland American Legion band gave a concert Thursday evening which was well received.

The last day's program, today, Friday, follows:
9:00 a. m.—Zeeland High school fair at the city hall.
10:00 a. m.—Kiddies' parade, starting on East Main street.
10:30 a. m.—Public acts, free to the public at speakers' stand.
11:00 a. m.—Football game, Zeeland High vs. East High of Grand Rapids, at Legion field.
12:00 p. m.—Balloons ascension at Lawrence street park.
1:00 p. m.—Band concert by American Legion band.
2:30 p. m.—Amateur hour at the speaker's stand on Main street. Free to the public.
3:00 p. m.—"It's a Knockout," a musical comedy at Zeeland High school auditorium, sponsored by the American Legion and auxiliary.
10 p. m.—Award of free prizes at speaker's stand.

Chairman Gilbert Van Hoven states that because of bad weather. A large part of the parade will be repeated Friday.

Miss Deborah Veneklasen, county welfare director and also former resident of Zeeland, who through her office made the widening of Main street possible, said: "I congratulate Zeeland on what they have done for themselves—due to effort, Zeeland is a city that does things for itself. When we took over the work in the fall of 1933 Zeeland was a city which had helped its people in distress, through its churches, more so than any other city in Michigan. Zeeland was first to celebrate the completion of a project in Michigan under the CWA, and now again it is one of the first cities in Michigan to celebrate the completion of a project under the works division of FERA. "I wish to express my ap-

ENGAGEMENT OF BATTLE CREEK-HOLLAND COUPLE IS ANNOUNCED

A pleasing announcement was made on the evening of Monday, September 30, when Mr. and Mrs. James Sterling Woodward of 133 Oaklawn avenue, Battle Creek, made known the engagement of their daughter, Miss Helen Wright Woodward, to Mr. Edgar Philip Landwehr, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Landwehr of "Hazelbank," Holland.

The announcement was made at a dinner given at the home of the parents of the young lady, to a group of eight young women, intimate friends of Miss Woodward. Miss Woodward is very popular at Battle Creek where her fundamental education was acquired at the public schools there. She finished her preparatory course at Holton Arms school for girls in Washington, D. C., in 1931. She then attended Smith college in North Hampton, Mass., for one year, and took the last three years at the University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, where she graduated in June of this year.

Mr. Landwehr also attended Michigan and it was here that the college romance began, culminating in the announcement of their betrothal.

Edgar Philip Landwehr has a host of friends in Holland and was one of the leading spirits in his interim in high school. He was very active in athletics and was a star on the tennis court, where he gained honors for his school. After graduating from Holland High he became a student at Michigan and was affiliated with Delta Kappa Epsilon fraternity.

Miss Woodward is a member of Alpha Phi sorority. Mr. Landwehr is now connected with the Holland Furnace Co., an institution with which the family was largely connected for the past 30 years.

Up to this time no date has been set for the marriage.

HOLLAND BOY, GRADUATE LAST YEAR, KILLED

Word was received here this morning that James Fabiano, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Fabiano, 196 River avenue, Holland, was killed in an automobile accident between Rockford and Lansing. Mr. Fabiano was a graduate of Holland High school and was 20 years of age. He was working in Lansing in the store of Mike Fabiano, a brother, and formerly worked in his father's fruit store on River avenue, Holland.

The accident happened near Cascade, near Grand Rapids, late Wednesday afternoon, in a collision with a car driven by James Carey, a retired Grand Rapids fireman, was also killed.

Fabiano sustained a fractured skull and died early Thursday morning in St. Mary's hospital, Grand Rapids.

Donald Carey, 31, son of James Carey, suffered severe shock and a left hip fracture and may be injured internally. Mrs. Pauline Carey, 44, wife of the elder Carey, suffered rib fractures and possible internal injuries. She was driving the Carey car. Her shoes were torn off by the crash.

Fabiano was riding in a car driven by his uncle, Frank DeRose, 48, of Lansing. Others in the car were DeRose's son, Paul, 4, and Peter Cascarelli of Quincy, another uncle. All were bruised.

The injured were rushed to the hospital in ambulances. Coroner Harmon C. Wolfe viewed the body of James Carey at the scene of the accident. He reported the man was riding in the rumble seat of the car and was thrown out on his head, death apparently resulting immediately.

The remains of Mr. Fabiano were returned to Holland today. Funeral services will be held Saturday at 10 a. m. at St. Francis de Sales church, Father F. W. Ryan officiating. Burial will be in Pilgrim Home cemetery.

Mr. Fabiano is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Fabiano of Holland; five sisters, Janis of Fremont and Virginia, Louise, Josephine and Esther of Holland, and two brothers, Mike of Lansing and Louis of Holland.

Attorney J. Thomas Mahan was in Muskegon and Grand Haven on business Wednesday.

The Pere Marquette station in Fennville was destroyed by flames early Thursday morning and damage was estimated at $5,000. Mail was recovered but all office equipment was destroyed.

The Eunice Aid society of Holland will hold a regular meeting today at 2:30 p. m. in the Fourteenth Street Christian Reformed church. The Rev. R. J. Danhof will be the speaker.

Eunice society meets this Friday afternoon at the Fourteenth Street Christian Reformed church parlors at 2:30 o'clock.

Van Raalte Ave. Paving Settled By Straw Vote

COUNCIL HOLDS SPECIAL MEETING BUT VOTE IS NEARLY A TIE

At the call of Mayor Bosch, special meeting of the property owners on Van Raalte avenue was held at the common council room last night to find out whether the owners of property were willing to pave that street under the PWA, since the direct saving would be considerable than if done later when the paving would have to be done the regular way.

City Engineer Jacob Zuidema stated that the work could be done at a cost of approximately $430 per foot to property owners, under the PWA, as against $7 per foot ordinarily.

There was considerable discussion on the matter. Hope college owns nearly a 1,000 feet on Van Raalte avenue and C. J. Dregman of the board did not favor paving at this time since the local institution could ill afford this expense now.

Austin Harrington stated that although he wished to act along with the majority of the others, he thought they should not lose sight of the tremendous saving to be made by letting the street paved under PWA, judging from the figure of the city engineer.

H. Koster brought out the probability of home owners losing their homes under an increased tax burden. Others stated that property value would increase with pavement, dust would be done away with, and the difference between $4.30 per running foot if paving was done now or $7.00 a running foot if paving was done in the future, was a saving worth considering.

Many property owners discussed different sides of the question, after which a ballot was taken, counting the votes the franchise of each property holder was made the basis for the result. After the tabulation was made by City Clerk Peterson, it was found 1888 feet favored the PWA and 1897 feet was opposed to paving at this time.

In consideration of the close vote, Alderman Van Zoeren moved that a survey should be made of the street before any project would be given further consideration. City Clerk Peterson was instructed to send postal cards to every property owner on Van Raalte avenue asking them to vote for or against paving at this time. Undoubtedly the vote will indicate what will be done with that street, provided, of course, in the final, the PWA is willing to grant and take on this project.

In presenting this project the "cart was put before the horse" and advised. In getting a project started with the PWA there seems to be an endless lot of "tape." Much data must be given legal matters must be gone into, and at a previous meeting Alderman Ben Steffens stated: "If we are compelled to go through so much detail first, then why not find out from the Van Raalte avenue property owners whether they are ready for the project now? If not it will save us much time, money, worry, and on the other hand if they are willing to pave at this time, then we can give the PWA the information they desire." This was a sensible way to handle this situation and this motion was unanimously passed. The meeting last evening was the culmination of that action. The next step is a definite vote and if it carries the PWA will be contacted. If the vote is adverse, undoubtedly the whole matter will be dropped, at least for a time. In the absence of Mayor Bosch, who has been ill for the past week, Alderman Peter Hulst of the Fifth ward presided.

ZEELAND GIRLS COME ON FIDAT

Several sweet young maidens of Zeeland came to Holland on a Friday. They were all colorfully dressed and sang the praises of our neighbors' homecoming. The last day is today, Friday.

MAYOR BOSCH IS ILL

Mayor Bosch did not attend the special meeting of the Common Council last evening, when the matter of paving Van Raalte avenue was discussed. The mayor has been ill at his home since last Friday.

LEAVES REMAIN ON TREES LONG

From all appearances the foliage will remain on the trees longer than usual, possibly because of the wet weather the past summer and fall. It is already October 11, and most of the leaves have not even been tinged by the brush of "Jack Frost." We are liable to have some shade throughout October, which is rather unusual.

Holland's First Pumper Purchased a Score of Years Ago

Holland Fire History And Firefighting

these are the able drivers. There are 12 firemen awaiting call each night at the fire engine houses, four volunteers in each station and four drivers. In addition each of the remaining 30 members of the department, including the chief, has a gong in the bedroom of his house which sounds the alarm and tells the volunteer from which box the alarm was turned in. Many of the men have been in continuous service for more than ten years and several for twenty and even thirty years.

"We have a great combination," the chief declares, "with enough old men on the ground to direct the fire fighting and a suitable number of young men to climb the ladders."

The chief finds perfect harmony between members of the two companies. But that was not always the case. Years ago when Mr. Blom first assumed his duties, he found bitter rivalry between the two organizations and one of his first administrative duties was to mould that partisan spirit into the department for the benefit of all concerned.

The night men who sleep at station No. 1 are always ready for duty and are the following: Sam Althuis, Ted Wyna, Russell Riselada, Gerald H. Bonnett.

The night men at No. 2 are Van Nui, L. Ten Brink, M. Vande Water, Dick Brandt.

The following are the members of the Holland fire department: Chief Blom, Assistant Chief, Lane Kamerling; captain of ladder truck, Marine Brandt; captain of pumper No. 1, M. H. Vander Bie; captain of pumper No. 2, Bert Vande Water; drivers, Joe Ten Brink, Fred Zigtman, Sam Plagenhoef and Ed De Feyter.

Other members of the department are Abel Smeenge, Andrew Klomprens, Peter Michaely, Ted Wyna, Jack Knoll, Henry De Maat, Sam Althuis, Egbert Beekman, Russell Riselada, Gerald Bonnette, Louis Ten Brink, Martinus Vande Water, Dick Brandt, Maurice Kuita, John Van Nui, John Beintema, George Zuiverink, Esbert Streur, John B. Veldheer, Grevengeod and Bert Ten Brink.

PREPARED FOR FIRE THAT DID NOT COME

A group of relatives pleasantly surprised Egbert Boone on Monday evening at his home at New Groningen, where he was born 64 years ago, in 1871, the time the city of Holland was destroyed by fire. His father, the late G. J. Boone ("Groote" Boone), was rather anxious about his young son and had prepared a large wagon to be ready to move his family and household goods if the fire came near them. Fortunately this was not necessary. Anyway yesterday came in for a great deal of interesting discussion.

The following were present to celebrate the anniversary: Mr. Jerry Bulthuis, Sr., Tannetta Bulthuis, Mr. and Mrs. Abram Bulthuis, Mr. John Van Beukering, Ermina and Geraldine Van Beukering, Eugene Welling of Grand Haven; Mrs. B. A. Van Loo, Ada and Albert Van Loo, Mrs. W. B. Ver Meulen, Mr. and Mrs. John F. Stuit of Grand Rapids; Mr. and Mrs. Klaas Bulthuis, Mr. and Mrs. Gertrude De Haan, Mrs. Egbert, Ada C. Boone, and Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Boone of Holland. Delicious potluck refreshments added to the happy occasion.

It is said that there are many painters in the Netherlands whose names do not shine as do the above named, but who nevertheless were taught to paint correctly. Nothing is forgotten in any of their subject matter.

Saugatuck we all know has become an art center in the summer, and Cora Bliss Taylor has been outstanding as an artist and a lecturer both in Chicago and in Saugatuck. Her pupils have had paintings exhibited from New Jersey to California, and she personally has won a number of prizes in the Chicago Art Institute. Mrs. Taylor will not only exhibit but give a lecture on the "Arts of Old Holland" at the Woman's Literary club on November 26. She believes there is a great deal of undeveloped talent in this community and says that a city so beautiful, so cultured, so flower minded with an ancestry of artists, many of its citizens cannot help but prove to be artists themselves.

Mrs. Taylor's school is to be located on the second floor of the Holland City State bank building, and is to open on Monday, Nov. 4.

LOKKER-RUTGERS COMPANY

REMODEL SECOND FLOOR

The Lokker-Rutgers Clothing Emporium has just finished extensive improvements on the second floor of their spacious clothing store, making the floor into a most complete blanket and overcoat department. Partitions have been built in, the walls artistically redecorated in a soft ivory and tan with gold striping and new cases and racks added. The whole presents a roomy and complete department for at least two articles so much needed in cold weather, namely blankets and overcoats. However, you will receive a warm welcome at Lokker-Rutgers when coming to look over their new department and incidentally what you'll find in it.

AMERICAN LEGION NEWS

We are now back on our regular schedule and the next meeting is called for Wednesday, October 23. It is with deep regrets that we report that our genial and versatile custodian, John Althuis, has resigned. John was ever faithful to his trust. Always were the chairs arranged neatly, sometimes we would face the south, sometimes northeast, but they were arranged. We always had our refreshments, and on time. We're going to miss the boy and his colorful scout reports.

Keep the toy drive in mind while you are doing your fall cleaning. Jack Zwemer has consented to pick up all donations with his truck; all you have to do is call 2414 and he will come. This is no advertising medium but the afore-said truck bears the caption "Central Hardware."

By the next meeting it is hoped that the season's program of programs will be lined up. The same method will be used that proved so successful the last two years. Chet Van Tongeren started it and Heinie Cook followed. Two men will be delegated to get some entertainment at each meeting. When you receive your notice, let us not hear any moaning and groaning as there is plenty of talent in Holland that can be had for the asking.

Our cub pack will be late in getting started this fall since Tony DenUyl has taken up other work that will keep him occupied every evening.

Comrade Ed Harvey of Grand Rapids, district manager for the canteen service, was up to see us at the last meeting. He is anxious for more locations for the candy vending machines. And so are we, because his check in our treasury each month is quite a help.

Several familiar faces appeared in the meeting last night. You remember Doc Tappan, yes, Past Commander Tappan. Well, he was up. And Bill Haight, Heinie Vening, Bill Strabbing, Herm Prins were also re-introduced.

But the surprise was "Ernie" Brooks, past commander, and former mayor, coming in smiling. No one has learned yet who pointed out the way for him but anyway we enjoyed his talk.

"Heinie" Geerds was on deck, too. We didn't see much of him last year. He also had his chance on the floor but with his 15c words there were not many that followed him until Doc Weststrate volunteered as interpreter.

Christian school circle No. 3 of the Ninth Street Christian Reformed church will meet at the home of Mrs. B. Jacobs, 247 East Thirtieth street, tonight at 8 p. m.

A first annual old-timers party will be held at the armory Friday, November 1, for present and former members of Holland's Company D of the national guards. Toastmaster will be Major Henry Geerds and a very interesting program is being arranged. Captain Bremer believes that a party of this kind will organize the backing of former members of the company and add to the morale of present members. A military ball will be held Armistice night at the armory for members of the company and guests.

A rehearsal of the Imperial Grenadiers was held last night at the home of Henry Windemulder on Central avenue. Those present were Leon Schaddies, Osbourn Vos, Jacob Menken, Willard Dornbos, Jay C. Nieboer and Henry Windemulder.

Arrest Gypsies
for Larceny; Two Women Are Held

ALLEGAN MAN CLAIMS HE WAS VICTIMIZED BY PICKPOCKETS

Two gypsy women, alleged pickpockets, and charged with larceny from the person, were to be arraigned on those charges, following their arrest Wednesday night on the complaint of Charles Sisson, Allegan.

The women were taken from a car load of gypsies at the Sisson home on Academy street just as they were attempting to speed away from the house in an automobile. They were charged with having taken $25 from Sisson. Three women, a man and several children were in the car at the time, and two of the women were placed in custody.

George Duell, 65, Fennville charged with being drunk and disorderly received a sentence of 30 days in jail and was ordered to pay a $5 fine and costs when he pleaded guilty.

Roy Shoemaker, age 18, Valley township, Allegan county, has been taken into custody on charges of larceny. He pleaded not guilty and trial date was set for Oct. 7th.

Merrill Prince, 31, Kalamazoo, charged with drunken driving, paid a $50 fine plus costs when he pleaded guilty.

George Hathaway, 18, Valley township, charged with leaving the scene of an accident, was given the option of a fine or jail sentence on his guilty plea and at present is in jail.

Leon Scott, 45, Trowbridge township, who sometime ago was arrested on charges of drunken driving, night for failure to pay his fine, was again arrested Wednesday.

After being placed in custody he paid a $100 fine plus costs and his drivers license was revoked.

MATTRESS FACTORY TO CLOSE IN NEAR FUTURE

Allegan's mattress factory, which has been furnishing employment for several months to about 30 women, will operate until cold weather makes heat necessary, according to F. C. Gallagher, county relief administrator, who a few days ago announced that the state will not buy coal to heat the factory and that the local ERA's funds are so restricted that it cannot buy fuel.

There is on hand at the present time about a month's supply of mattress material and if this is not used up before cold weather makes factory heat necessary, it will be shipped to some other state factory where women employed here will be thrown out of work.

The mattress factory was permitted to continue after general shut down orders for all projects, because it had a large supply of materials on hand.

OTTAWA COUNTY FARMERS TO GET WASHINGTON
CHECKS; 4-H MAKE TRIP
TO LANSING; ALA-BAMA MOTH HERE

Approval of wheat compliance papers sent from Ottawa county has been received by L. R. Arnold, secretary of the association. Mr. Arnold expects checks to follow within a few days. At time of receipt of checks meetings will be set at which time William Easton, treasurer, will make delivery. All but a very few compliance papers were approved. These are now in the secretary's office for corrections. As soon as corrections are made they will be returned to Washington for approval.

Approval of the 1935 compliance allows final payment on the 1934 crop and first payment on 1935 crop. Checks to be issued on papers approved will total $24,488.

Ottawa 4-H club members enjoyed an occasion quite out of the ordinary when they made a trip to Michigan State college to take in the first football game of the season. Over 175 members and about 30 drivers made the trip. Through the efforts of L. R. Arnold, county agricultural agent, free admission to the game was obtained from the athletic department of the college. Several hundred scouts and schoolchildren of Lansing and vicinity enjoyed this same privilege.

The Ottawa club members thoroughly enjoyed the game with its attendant features, the scout parade and the appearance of the Michigan State college military band. This trip was made possible through the kindness of many Ottawa county residents who furnished cars for transportation. The Ottawa 4-H club council feels grateful to those parties who helped to make this event a success. Many have expressed the hope that it will become an annual event.

Ottawa fruit growers have reported the presence of the Alabama moth, an insect which does not northward during the year. It is a small golden colored moth which attacks ripe fruit particularly the peach and strawberries. The moth has a proboscis extending from the mouth part. This tube is extended into the ripe fruit and juices extracted and the fruit is left with a soft spot quite similar to a bruise.

Growers of peaches and strawberries have reported injury from this pest to L. R. Arnold, county agricultural agent. No preventative measures can be taken while the fruit is still on the plant. About all that can be done is to gather the fruit before it is quite ripe. If ripe fruit is picked it should be kept from attack through storage in a building or through covering of the fruit with mosquito netting.

Cold weather kills off the insects so no control measures need be taken. The insects move in from the South. In 1934 they were first reported in Lenawee county in October. Their appearance this year was earlier.

Fall Hunting
Begins Next Week Tuesday

PHEASANTS OCT. 15 TO OCT. 27. RABBIT HUNTING DATES RATHER COMPLICATED

More than 200,000 brown-clad hunters will move into the woods and fields of lower Michigan Tuesday, Oct. 15, to open the upland hunting season.

Beginning on that date ringnecked pheasants, ruffed grouse, prairie chickens, sharp-tailed grouse, rails (except coot), fox squirrels, woodcock and rabbits become legal game. The upland hunting seasons in the lower peninsula are:

Pheasants—Oct. 15 to Oct. 27, inclusive.

Ruffed grouse—Oct. 15 to Oct. 27, inclusive.

Prairie chickens—Oct. 15 to Oct. 27, inclusive.

Sharp-tailed grouse—Oct. 15 to Oct. 27, inclusive.

Fox squirrels—Oct. 15 to Oct. 24, inclusive.

Rails (except coots)—Oct. 15 to Nov. 19, inclusive.

Woodcock—Oct. 15 to Oct. 27, inclusive.

The season on rabbits is staggered. North of the north line of Town 16 the season is open from Oct. 15 to Jan. 31, inclusive; south of that line, including all of Huron county, the season is open to and including Jan. 1.

Season bag limits on several species of birds have been increased over last year by the 1935 legislature. Six pheasants may be shot during the open season this year, instead of four which was the season limit last year. The season limit on ruffed grouse is 25 and on prairie chickens and sharp-tailed, combined, 25. Last year it was 10. Day and possession limits are the same as last year. Pheasants cannot legally be hunted this year before sunrise.

Open seasons in the upper peninsula on ruffed grouse, prairie chickens, sharp-tailed grouse, fox squirrels, rabbits, woodcock and rails (except coot) opened Oct. 1. Legal hunting of ducks, geese, brant, jacksnipe and coots is from Oct. 21 to Nov. 19, inclusive, in both the upper and lower peninsulas.

Is Skeptical About
200 Mile Ship Canal

J. S. Morton, veteran Lake Michigan steamboat operator of the former Graham & Morton and Goodrich steamship lines, formerly of Holland and Benton Harbor, expressed skepticism today over the feasibility of a proposed 200-mile ship canal across southern Michigan, as proposed by William Connelly of the Holland chamber of commerce.

"If a canal suitable for lake vessels could be built it would no doubt make a large saving in distance, but the question arises as to whether it could be done for $100,000,000, as estimated by Mr. Connelly," Mr. Morton said. "The question of the canal has too many ramifications to be answered off-hand. Attempts have been made to launch similar projects in the past, but usually ended in disagreement over the route."

WPA JOB PROGRAM IN HOLLAND INDICATED

Word received at the federal re-employment office to get files in shape for a program was taken as an indication that WPA projects in Holland and Ottawa county are likely to be approved, providing jobs for several hundred unemployed.

A score of county projects which would employ 500 relief clients, now on file with WPA officials, although it is not at present known how many of them will be approved.

Don't Destroy Signs

Department of Conservation of Michigan signs posted along roadways must not be defaced, torn down, or in any way molested. Fines and jail sentences are provided by law for tampering with state forestry, forest fire or any other Department of Conservation sign in Michigan.

Farmers Aid Game Birds

By planting food and leaving herbage uncut, providing cover, and prohibiting illegal shooting on their property, Michigan farmers can do more to protect the pheasant, valuable game bird, than any other one group of conservationists.

Sportsmen's clubs have secured eggs and released thousands of young pheasants, and the State Department of Conservation has restocked extensively, yet there continues to be a shortage of these game birds. Figures compiled by the State indicate an average legal kill of 2.6 for each of the 313,000 licensed small game hunters; poachers, overzealous hunters, forest fires and predators took an added toll.

Co-operation of farmers in safeguarding the birds which escape, is sought by State officials and sportsmen alike, in an effort to offset the tremendous annual toll.

MARKED INCREASE NOTED IN SEPTIC THROAT CASES

A marked increase of septic sore throat in this locality is reported by the Ottawa County Health unit. Septic sore throat, frequently causes complications and should be considered seriously, says Dr. Ralph Ten Have, head of the department. Cases should be strictly isolated. It is quite likely that cases that have occurred are caused by contact.

Infection is spread from the secretion of the nose and throat. The milk supply needs to be watched carefully because of the contamination danger. All cases should be seen by a physician and reported to the health department, the doctor states.

Can't Hunt Deer From Trees

Hunting deer from a tree is no longer legal in Michigan. In fact, an amendment to the general game laws of 1935 makes any part of a tree except the dead stump an illegal perch for the hunter. And it makes no difference what species of game he is hunting, whether it be deer or rabbits.

Before the 1935 legislature made this change a part of the general game laws, it was legal to hunt from a tree so long as the sportsman did not use as a perch any type of artificial platform.

The law now reads: "It shall be unlawful for any person at any time to make use of any pit, pitfall, deadfall, scaffold, raised platform, tree, cage, snare, trap, net, baited hook or any similar device or any drug, poison, salt, chemical, smoke, gas, explosive, guinea pig or rodent of any kind, artificial light or mechanical device for the purpose of injuring, capturing or killing any birds or animals protected by the laws of this state."

Firearms or steel traps are not construed as mechanical devices.

On cloudy nights, birds fly close to the earth to avoid the mist-filled air above them. Some drily evening, try standing in your back yard. It may be your good fortune to hear the weird migration calls just above you as countless invisible feathered travelers wing their way to the South.

Note that most of the fur-bearing animals are completely outfitted for winter. Their coats are glossy and thick and unyielding by a liberal layer of fat. The chipmunk has his storehouse well supplied; the woodchucks and skunks have become too fat for much activity and are searching for suitable homes to pass the winter; muskrats have practically completed building their houses in the marsh. You will see but few turtles or frogs in your tramps afield.

They are cold blooded animals and the chilly days make them quite groggy. Soon they will be curled up for their winter's sleep beneath the waters of our lakes and streams.

Holland Beautiful

Holland's environs have much to offer. Waukegon, Macatawa and Castle Park are just now fairy lands of beauty. New Richmond and the Fennville fruit district afford a sight not soon to be forgotten, with the lazy Kalamazoo river undulating through dense and beautifully colored woodlands.

Then there is the mysterious Pigeon Lake shores at Port Sheldon. But what's the use of continuing. Step on the grass, ride out a few miles and you see beauty everywhere—even Centennial Park and Hope college campus could not be more beautiful than now. Give yourself a treat—the autumnal artists are now busy and it costs you nothing to see them work wonders.

After Nov. 1 the federal aid for welfare support will be withdrawn according to announcements from the government.

According to local reports the case load here is about 140. The city has been contributing $600 per month to welfare support, the funds being turned over to the county administration.

City officials here are awaiting word from the county organization as to what the procedure will be after Nov. 1, when those on welfare are expected to be given employment through the PWA and WPA projects.

Lure of "Great Outdoors" in October Month

NATURE'S BEST SPECTACLE IS IN FALL OF YEAR. HOLLAND'S ENVIRONS OFFER ENDLESS BEAUTY

Don't pass up a chance for at least one day in the open during the month of October. Hunters need no urging, for this is their month, but anglers and nature lovers should set aside at least a few days to drink in the color and atmosphere of this "month of the falling leaves," as the Indians called it. All outdoors is really preparing for winter, but while doing so, is putting on a spectacle such as no other season can offer.

Crimson sumac, forerunner of Indian summer, is flaming along the road and hillside. Wild grapes are ready for picking. Bittersweet gleams orange against the gravelly ground in which it grows. When you pick it, cut it with a knife or scissors. Leave the vines to produce fruit next year. Bottle gentians and fringed are blossoming now. Fringed gentians are annuals and you should leave plenty of them, or you will have none next year. There must be enough blossoms to form seed. Aster and goldenrod are making a last stand against the frost. A bright warm day will make the milkweed pods pop—a most beautiful sight.

Witch Hazel Belated
Last shrub of the year to blossom in Michigan is the witch hazel. Its flowers are hardy golden curls which appear when the leaves have fallen. At the same time, the seed-pods which formed from last fall's blossoms are ripe. The capsules dry and contract, and when the sun beats upon them, they expel their two shiny black seeds with considerable force, throwing them many feet.

With the plants dying off, insects which are directly dependent upon them, are forced into states of inactivity. Many of them will spend the winter quietly in pupae stage, safe within inconspicuous cocoons, at all appearances as lifeless as the deserted cottage of a summer resort. For many species of insects, the seasonal change means death. Egg clusters have been deposited, and next spring these will hatch out as the new generation.

As insects disappear, our bird population begins to shift. Already the martins, swallows and flycatchers have left us. A wave of warblers is coming down from the North and will pass over most any day. Most birds migrate at night, guided through dark air lanes by that unexplained thing called "instinct."

Watch Them From Yard
On cloudy nights, birds fly close to the earth to avoid the mist-filled air above them. Some drily evening, try standing in your back yard. It may be your good fortune to hear the weird migration calls just above you as countless invisible feathered travelers wing their way to the South.

Concrete is lower in first cost than any other paving material of comparable quality.

Concrete is by far the most economical type of surface to maintain and lasts the longest.

Concrete is safe in any weather, drains quickly, increases visibility, improves appearance.

Concrete cuts your driving cost by saving on gas, oil, tires and car repairs.

Insurance Agency Plays Part in Holland History

Without

WARNING!

THE McBride Insurance Agency is one that dates back to Holland's disastrous fire of '71 and the Chicago fire that same year. The Insurance companies that paid the fire losses of that year throughout the United States are still in existence and paying losses today.

The history of the McBride Agency is interwoven with the history of the city of Holland. Fire records show that this agency has paid losses in all of the major fires of the City of Holland and vicinity.

Mayor's Message

All this week has been set aside for national fire protection week. This week the anniversary of Holland's great fire and the tremendous Chicago fire of October 8, 1871, will be remembered by a few who were then living. It is a far cry from the date of the Holland conflagration until the present time.

In those days Holland was only a village in primitive state, with primitive fire equipment. Despite this fact Holland's fire-fighting personnel, whether with good, mediocre or bad equipment, was always as efficient as the fire-fighting apparatus allowed them to be.

Today Holland not only has excellent equipment but a fire-fighting force second to none. The equipment will be made better in the centralization of another fire station, which we hope will become a fact sometime within the near future.

While the nation this week is celebrating fire prevention week, it would be of little use unless there were fifty-two fire prevention weeks in every year. Holland has been very fortunate during the last many years, since our fire losses have been at a minimum. Holland folk by nature are careful people, and this fact, augmented by extraordinary fire department service, is undoubtedly the direct cause of our small fire losses.

Fire prevention week has been inaugurated to make citizens the nation over mindful that carelessness is the cause of the far greater part of our conflagrations that bring loss of life and property loss untold.

I hereby, with many other Mayors of the nation, wish to express my approval of setting aside a fire prevention week, which, shall we say, will be a school where we are taught to prevent fires rather than to cause them.

Mutually,

NICODEMUS BOSCH,
Mayor.

FIRE PREVENTION WEEK

CHIEF BLOM CALLS ATTENTION TO NATIONAL FIRE PREVENTION WEEK

Each year, by presidential proclamation, our country observes what is known as Fire Prevention Week. This year, according to Fire Chief Cornelius Blom, all this week is being devoted to this very important event. Its purpose is to remind the public of the huge annual toll in lives and property that is taken by fire. During Fire Prevention Week there is a nationwide campaign to eliminate fire hazards and to prevent fires.

Our community will be no exception. The chief and his men request that the citizens take certain steps to protect themselves during the coming winter. "One of the chief sources of fires," says Chief Blom, "is accumulated trash and old paper in basements and attics. A clean building seldom burns. We hope that everyone will clean out all rubbish that has been piling up, both inside and out of doors."

Another major fire cause is improper electric wiring and the use of defective electrical equipment. All fires that start because of these conditions are preventable. The fire department has expressed its willingness to give suggestions on eliminating the electrical hazard to any citizens who wish to make their property more safe. Heating appliances should also be gone over before cold weather sets in. Many stoves and furnaces and their chimneys deteriorate during the summer months. Then when they are put into use, they start fires. Have your heating system inspected by an expert before you use it.

"Our men will be glad to make an inspection of any building for fire hazards," the chief says. "They are naturally well fitted to detect dangerous conditions and to suggest remedies, because preventing fire is one of our duties, just as much as fighting fire."

According to statistics, more than half of all fires in this country are preventable. The damage they do results in a totally needless loss of money that benefits no one. If we can reduce our community loss by "fighting fires before they start," we save that much in community wealth; in addition we are protecting our lives and those of our neighbors. As Chief Blom says, "Let's co-operate, and make Fire Prevention Week a success." Surely there is no loss in making our town safer.

ALLEGAN COUNTY NEWS

Jay H. Fish, fifty-five years of age, a resident of Wayland, committed suicide by hanging himself in his barn at Wayland, Thursday, Sept. 26. Coroner Carlton Bartholomew reported an inquest unnecessary. Fish was last seen alive at one o'clock, his body being discovered at eight, after a search instituted when he failed to appear for supper. He is survived by his widow, Lena, and one son, Valentine.

In the church of the Good Shepherd where the forefathers of the bride had worshipped since the establishment of the Episcopal church in Allegan, two prominent Fennville residents, Miss Marcia Bassett and Mr. Clare Alvin Arnold were united in marriage at 8:30 o'clock Wednesday morning in the presence of about 50 relatives and close friends. The impressive ring service was read by the rector, Rev. Albert L. Schrock, the bride's father giving his daughter in marriage. The couple were unattended.

For the ceremony the church was simply and beautifully arranged with garlands of white clematis with its lacy foliage; also with bouquets of white gladioli. A few shell-pink blooms relieved the severity of the otherwise all-white setting. Mrs. Ralph Franz played the wedding march. The bride, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Bassett of Fennville, was attired in a gown of ruby chiffon velvet. It was fashioned ankle-length and with it she wore a hat of the same becoming shade. She carried Bride roses. Following the service in the church a wedding breakfast was served in the Otwellan club. Mrs. Arnold has an unusually large number of devoted and admiring friends not only in her home town and in this city but throughout the county and elsewhere, due in part, no doubt, to her happy and friendly disposition and to the fact of her having invariably shown consideration for the comfort and happiness of others. Because of such qualities and of her executive ability she has been prominent in church, social, and club circles. She is a graduate of Fennville high school and received training in Fairmount seminary, Washington, D.C. During the World War she was employed in the officers' division of the adjutant general's office in the United States war department, supervising the work of about 140 clerks. She has been active in Eastern Star circles, being an officer in the county organization and having served as Grand Ruth in the grand chapter of Michigan. She is also president of the Fennville Woman's club, a member of the Rubinstein club and of the Methodist church choir of Fennville. The groom is the son of Mrs. Hattie Arnold and of the late N. F. Arnold. A native of Fennville he is characterized by many sterling qualities. He is assistant to the Fennville postmaster and in that office as well as elsewhere his gentlemanly bearing has won him many friends. Both Mr. Arnold and his bride are descendants of pioneer families of Fennville. The two will continue to make that village their home following a northern wedding trip.

THE MINISTRY OF JEREMIAH

Henry Geerlings

Jeremiah was convinced that he was called of God to do a great but an exceedingly difficult and unpopular ministry. He was confident that God had spoken to him directly about the matter. Just how this speaking was done we do not know, but we believe that the process by which the prophet arrived at his conclusion was more than an ordinary process of reasoning. In some unmistakable manner God spoke to the soul of this man, convincing him that he was called and set aside in the divine mind for a hard task but a very necessary and important one.

There is something very wonderful about these ancient prophets' persuasion that they were called of God. There is something very wonderful about any man's conviction that his work in the world has the divine sanction. With this conviction there comes an extraordinary urge to do the work and an abiding sense of inescapableness from the call. What is a man to do when he believes that God wants him for a specific duty? He may plead his own unworthiness and his own inability to measure up to the divine requirements. He may stagger under the consciousness of the greatness of the task. There seems to be an altogether natural reaction of a sensitive soul. Fools rush in where angels fear to tread. Egotsia think themselves equal to any task. There is always and everywhere a type of man who thinks he can run the universe. It is not hard to find men who believe they are not appreciated and that their splendid abilities to do the great things of the world are being tragically passed by. Maybe there are some of us who cannot understand why we are where we are and why other men are in so much more responsible positions than those we occupy. But God never overrates his man or underestimates the ones not called to the world's difficult and commanding positions. He knew Jeremiah and his abilities. He did not select him at random, in a kind of hit and miss fashion. He does not so operate in His world.

Of course, Jeremiah tried to beg off at the consciousness of so big a task to which he was called. There was a real struggle going on in the soul of the prophet and the divine attitude toward it. God knows that it is not mock humility, but a real attempt to escape real responsibility.

We have here, too, God as the divine encourager and reassurer. With His call to duty comes a divine power to make him equal to the task. The poor speaker is made the eloquent and convincing speaker. The shrinking man is made the courageous man. The man whose eyes are dull is made to have heavenly visions.

We have already intimated that Jeremiah was called to a hard and thankless task. It was one of that kind of missions in the world that is radical and destructive, that goes to the very roots of men's sins and that lays bare their unholy-lives and also that seeks to build up and make strong in the Lord and in the power of His might. The trouble is that most of the people cannot see that oftentimes there must be destruction that there may be construction; that repentance that must be thorough repentance that there may come the most beautiful character building. When men are called upon to give up their darling sins and to abandon their pleasant ways of life, though evil, they cannot envisage the saving and glorious process of it all.

Jeremiah became a fearless preacher of righteousness. He told in no uncertain way what he thought of the doings and lives of the people. He spared no one. He spoke the unpleasant things, the words that must have cut and stung and hurt down to the very depths of their hearts. Of course, he found no pleasure in this kind of preaching. He spoke very evidently out of a suffering and pained heart. No servant of God has any pleasure in uttering truth that condemns and hurts and pains and arouses antagonisms. It is inconceivable that any man of God with a burning zeal for goodness and establishing the kingdom of God in the world would find an unwholesome joy in pointing out men's sins and in calling them to account and in warning them of any doom that may come upon them. He suffers a divine heart-ache and heartbreak. But he preaches the disagreeable truth because he loves men's souls and safety more than he loves his own ease and comfort and safety. And for speaking the unpopular and the disagreeable word Jeremiah stirred up a great resentment and even hatred in the souls of the priests and the prophets and all the people. They adjudged him worthy of death.

It has ever been thus with those who have loved truth and righteousness more than the favor of the people.

ZEELAND FATALITY CALLED ACCIDENTAL

An inquest has been found unnecessary in the death here Sunday night of Cornelius Boone, 32, retired business man and life-long resident of this vicinity.

Besides the widow, a son, Clarence, of Holland, and a daughter, Mrs. Gertrude Bosman of Florida, survive.

Funeral services will be held on Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Free Methodist church.

Miss Adrianna Van Loo, 35, suffered head and body injuries Sunday evening when she was struck by a car driven by Henry Zylstra of R.F.D. No. 2, on M-21, two miles west of here. She was taken to her home.

SUNDAY DINNER Suggestions

By ANN PAGE

THE usual slight rise in the price of meat vegetables to be expected at this season has begun, as local grove produce grows scarce and shipped-in commodities increase. Cauliflower, spinach and mushrooms, however, are lower and more plentiful.

Apples, Concord and Tokay grapes and cranberries are the outstanding fruits this week. Although there are still melons, peaches and Bartlett pears available, their seasons are nearly over.

The decrease in wholesale meat prices has been too slight to reach the housewife but retail prices are at least no higher. Poultry prices remain firm. With the exception of large white eggs which are rather scarce, fresh eggs are unusually plentiful and reasonable for October.

Here are three dinner menus planned at different price levels.

Favorite Egg Dishes

EGG DISHES are all year 'round favorites with us. In fact, we Americans consumed some 38 billion eggs last year. That staggering number should prove their popularity if nothing else did. But mere figures are not necessary. On every hand we see them being served—plain and fancy, brown and white, season in and season out. And a fine thing it is, too, for our national health, for eggs have exceptionally high nutritional value. Ranking second only to milk as an almost complete food, they are a rich source of proteins and fats, vitamins and minerals, and they can be prepared in an endless number of delicious ways that will make them a welcome "piece de resistance" throughout the whole year. Serve these dishes and watch your family multiply.

Costed Eggs with Creamed Noodles—Add 1/4 teaspoon Worcestershire Sauce to 1 lb. sausage meat, and mix well. Divide meat into six parts. Shell 6 hard cooked eggs and coat each egg completely with one portion of the sausage, pressing well so it adheres firmly to the egg. Dip the coated egg first into slightly beaten egg, then into crushed Rice Flakes (1 egg and 1 cup Rice Flakes, crushed after measuring). Fry in deep hot fat (375° F.) until crisp and browned—about 3 or 4 minutes. Drain well. Cut 3 of the eggs in halves lengthwise and 3 in halves crosswise. Toast 6 slices of bread to a golden brown, then spread with butter. Cut each slice of toast into two triangles, and place two triangles, points together, in center of plate, and in each angle place one-half of an egg, having one lengthwise and one crosswise half on each plate. Pour a generous serving of Creamed Noodles over toast triangles and garnish with parsley. (Note:—Prepare the Creamed Noodles while the fat is getting hot.)

Cider or White Vinegar, then let yolks slide from dish into water. Every 3 or 4 minutes, move yolks around in water with wooden spoon so they do not touch. Cook 10 minutes or until quite firm. Drain and cool, if not used at once. Pan broil 5 or 6 thin slices raw or boiled ham in 2 tablespoons butter until golden brown, then remove from skillet and place each slice of ham on a thin slice of buttered toast which is arranged on warm platter. Blend 2 tablespoons flour with butter remaining in skillet, then add 1-16 oz. can Noodle Soup with Chicken and stir until a medium thick sauce is formed. Place egg yolks in sauce and allow mixture to simmer slowly until yolks are heated through. Arrange 2 yolks on each slice of ham and surround them with Noodles and Sauce.

Deviled Onions with Eggs—Mince 6 cold boiled onions and 2 hard cooked eggs. Melt 1 tablespoon butter in a saucepan, add 1 tablespoon flour and blend well. Add 1/2 cup milk and stir until thickened. Season with 1 1/2 teaspoons Worcestershire Sauce, 1 teaspoon Prepared Brown Mustard, 1/4 teaspoon salt, and a dash of pepper and paprika. Add this pungent sauce to the minced onions and eggs, place in a baking dish, sprinkle with buttered bread crumbs or grated cheese, and bake in a moderately slow oven (350° F.) for about 20 minutes or until lightly browned. This is an unusual dish and a very good one.

Eggs with Chicken Noodles—When separating eggs for angel food cake, gently place yolks in large soup bowl, being careful not to break them. After cake is in oven, bring 1 quart water to simmering point, and add 1 tablespoon Spaghetti and Egg Scramble—Fry 8 slices bacon until crisp, then remove from pan and break into small pieces. Beat 4 eggs until light and fluffy, add 1-13 1/2 oz. can Cooked Spaghetti in Tomato Sauce, and turn into skillet containing a small amount of the bacon fat. Stir gently until the consistency of scrambled eggs. Add bacon broken into small pieces, and salt and pepper to taste. Serve on toast. Whole bacon slices may be placed around the scrambled Spaghetti rather than added, if desired.

Further Reports

—on banking show added indications of strength and stability.

OUR previous advertisement in this series described the fine progress in American Banking as reported by both state and national bank supervisory officials.

Another particularly significant item, recently issued by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation at Washington, D. C., stated that the banks and trust companies which had borrowed money from it have repaid 75% of their loans. The R.F.C. was organized in 1932 to aid banks in meeting the abnormal demands of the times. Since that time about 7,400 banking institutions have received from it advances of $1,900,000,000 of which they have returned $1,400,000,000. This has been made possible through the strengthening of their own financial conditions and the return of public confidence and stability.

This bank is an integral part of the nation's sound and serviceable banking structure.

History of Deer Hunting Laws

Interesting

REAL CONSERVATION-MINDED FOLKS SAW DANGER OF EXTERMINATING DEER
AS FAR BACK AS '39

EVEN OTTAWA AND ALLEGAN
COUNTIES WERE CLOSED TO DEER HUNTERS
FOR A TIME

Some 50 years ago Ottawa and Allegan counties were great deer hunting territory and the old files are filled with stories of hunters who brought home deer shot just across the Grand Haven bridges. There was a fine deer run at Fillmore, and Waukegon, then "Point Superior," harbored many wild deer. Among the hunters of those days were Jake Flieman, C. Blom, Sr., Harry Raffanau, the Harrington family (Austin getting his first deer at 13 years not three miles from the city), Fellows brothers near West Olive, and many more. Today Ottawa has no deer to speak of and Allegan county can boast of about 100 home-reared, but all are protected under the state law.

A chronological history of one phase of deer management in Michigan that goes back to 1859 is being compiled by I. H. Bartlett of the Game Division, Department of Conservation, who is delving into old documents and records on legislation.

Although Michigan in the 1850's is reputed to have been a "paradise" to the sportsman, it is evident that even at that early date there were fears for the deer supply, for the legislature of 1859 enacted the first law limiting the hunting of the white-tailed deer.

The law restricted legal hunting to the last five months of the year—August, September, October, November and December.

The next legislative act pertaining to deer came in 1863 when the legislature saw need for further

An Appalling Loss

During the first ten months of 1934 the appalling number of 1,072 persons in Michigan lost their lives in motor accidents, an increase of 21 per cent over the corresponding months of 1933, topping even the all-time high record of the country as a whole. Why discuss the reason for this criminal disregard for human life? Nine out of every ten accidents resulting in loss of life are caused by careless driving. Michigan has a drivers' financial liability law, yet a new accident peak is reached. In the seclusion of our homes we seek to find some remedy for this situation, only to go out and witness some fool driver tearing down the highway at an eighty-mile clip, regardless of traffic or driving conditions. The only remedy seems an aroused public opinion against the reckless operator of a motor vehicle. Even under a campaign of this nature, accidents will continue. Nature prevents any substitution of brains in place of what they are now totting around inside their skulls.

changes. A law was passed closing the season from January 15 to September 1, but still there were no restrictions on the "take." A hunter could bag as many deer as he wished of either sex or size and in any manner.

But with civilization advancing farther northward, market hunters appearing in increasing numbers and forest fires laying waste vast areas of deer habitat, the deer apparently continued to diminish. To further conserve the supply the legislature of 1869 restricted the open season to from Sept. 1 to Dec. 31, inclusive. In 1873 the season was shortened again, legal hunting being permitted only in October, November and December. After two years of that the legislature of 1875 changed the season to from Sept. 15 to Dec. 15.

What may have seemed radical changes in those days, however, came in 1881 when the hunting season was restricted to October and November, the use of a pit, snare or trap forbidden, the killing of deer in red and spotted coat and while in the water made illegal. The legislature also decreed that deer could be killed only for food and that no deer or parts of deer could be shipped from the state.

Thereafter, as the supply continued to diminish, further restrictions came rapidly. The consequent changes in the laws were:

1867—Season restricted to November. Dogging and shining prohibited.

1891—First counties—Van Buren and Allegan—closed to hunting. Season fixed at from Nov. 5 to Nov. 25.

1893—Lapeer, Huron, Sanilac, Tuscola, Macomb, St. Clair counties closed for 10 years.

1895—First deer license, resident 50 cents; non-resident $25. First bag limit, five deer a season. Season set from Nov. 1 to Nov. 25.

1897—Alcona, Allegan, Ottawa closed for six years; Monroe for five. Resident fee raised to 75 cents. Season fixed at from Nov. 8 to Nov. 30.

1901—Kill limited to three deer. Sale of deer or deer meat in any

CATCHES 30-INCH RATTLE-SNAKE AT MONA LAKE

A 30-inch rattlesnake, one of the largest reported taken in this region in recent seasons, was caught alive on the south side of Mona lake today by Mrs. Carl Lawton of Mona Lake, U.S.-31, south of Muskegon Heights.

Mrs. Lawton, while walking along the shore, saw the big rattler, got a long stick and a bucket with a rope attached, and after some maneuvering poked the reptile into the container. The snake, while chilled by the unusually cold weather, buzzed vigorously with its seven rattles, and lashed at her in his efforts to resist.

After fastening the bucket over the bow of the boat, Mrs. Lawton returned across the lake to exhibit her trophy to the astonished neighbors. After viewing it from a distance, they advised against keeping the snake in Black Creek valley, and persons have been bitten by them.

THAT WAS SKULL OF A BLACK BEAR

(Allegan Gazette)

Two weeks ago the Gazette told of the finding of a strange old skull eight feet under ground in a marl pit in Watson township and that it had been sent to Michigan university for identification. We pronounced it the skull of a bear inasmuch as the only carnivora known to Michigan were bears and wolves. Mr. E. C. Case of the university writes Prof. Killmaster that such it is. He does not venture a guess as to its age—how long it had been under ground—but he asks that it be given to the university museum. This will be done.

In the side of the skull is a hole an inch or more in diameter. This elicits Mr. Case's interest. He writes: "The hole is of considerable interest. It can not be a bullet hole, as there is no injury beyond the opening. From a bullet there would have been some shattering of the bone. It can not be a hammer or hatchet for the same reason. It appears to be a trephine (a cutting as from a sharp instrument like a saw). He added a like matter of interest: 'We found a burial this fall with two bear skulls placed on the sides of the human skull. The human skull and at least one bear skull had been perforated.' The Watson skull, Mr. Case says, 'promises to be of great interest.' The finding was made on the farm of Mr. Horace Ashley a mile and a half south of Watson Corners.

Boyink Chosen to Head Frosh for Year 1935

Election of freshman officers was held September 19 under the direction of Student Council President Helena Vischer and John Vander Meulen Jr.

Paul Boyink, a graduate of Grand Haven high school, was chosen president of the class. Other candidates were Donald Shaw and John Stokes. Mary Jane Vaupell was elected vice president, defeating Bruce Wagoner.

The class decided to have the offices of secretary and treasurer combined, and Donald Shaw was elected to fill this position. His opponents were Cornelius Stoketee, John Olert and Thelma Kooker. Denton Norlin was elected captain of the pull.

The girl and boy representatives who were chosen to attend the council meetings are Margaret Allen and Hollis De Motta. They defeated Mary Good, Willard De Groot and Bob Wisheimer.

Let Us Have Peace

The controversy that has been raging over the question of erecting a monument to Gen. Robert E. Lee in Arlington National Cemetery is unfortunate in the extreme. Gen. Lee was a great soldier and a great American. The manner in which he accepted the fortunes of war and went about building up what had been destroyed indicates the spirit in which the question of honoring his memory should be approached.

The War of the States ended 70 years ago and it is time that the sectional feelings aroused by it should end.

As Gen. Grant said: "Let us have peace."

Coin of the Realm

Caesar caused the Roman money to be stamped with his likeness, thereby including it among "the things that are Caesar's." In ancient times the emperor owned not only the money but all the substance of his realm, including the lives of his subjects. The same is true today in all those countries in which the government is still an absolute monarchy. The coin of the realm has peculiar interest in that it bears the likeness of the ruler of the nation.

The coin of the United States is not a departure from this rule, although all the figures depicted thereon are symbolic. Upon most of the coins is the goddess of liberty. The eagle, symbol of strength and courage, is also upon most of them. In only one case is the head of a particular individual imprinted upon an American coin—the head of Lincoln on the cent.

A new fire escape has been the pride and justification of the college girls during the past week. The addition has been placed in the back of the girls' dormitory and is one of the new spiral escapes with numerous twists and turns.

The big question before the campus is whether the girls will be able to slide in and out after eleven o'clock. Mrs. Durfee's ultimatum is that "the girls can slide out but not in."

Why Saugatuck Planted Iris as Town Flower

"YOU CAN KICK IT AROUND AND IT WILL COME BACK LIKE A DOG"

Holland has its tulips, Zeeland has selected several flowers, now Saugatuck has taken the iris to its heart. A town in Iowa, called Pella imported the tulip from this city through migration and imitation but that's another story we will have more about later. We are now only speaking of our intimate neighbors, and Saugatuck in particular. Many cities and villages in Michigan have become flower minded since Holland staged such a successful "tulip show". Anyway in Saugatuck it is the "iris" and the Saugatuck Commercial Record under the caption "Why the Iris? Tell us why, here is the reason: 'Iris was chosen because it requires so little care; it can stand more neglect and abuse than any other flower and yet grows and blossoms perfectly. It requires no care except to be free of grass. It requires little or no fertilizer. It grows well in any kind of soil, flourishes equally well in sun or partial shade and may remain in the same place for at least five years without separating, and has a greater wealth of color than any other flower and the foliage remains lovely all summer, the price is within reach of every purse, and has often been named the poor man's orchid. Every color and marking—all the peculiar and unusual combinations of color found in the iris are now to be found in the iris. It is the upkeep that makes an orchid an expensive luxury. It must be provided with special quarters under glass with strict care as to temperatures and the medium in which it grows. If it would grow anywhere it would not be any more expensive than the iris."

"As Mrs. Douglas Patterson says: 'You can kick an iris around and it will come back like a faithful dog.' An entire garden devoted to the iris was an unheard of thing 25 years ago. Then came Sir Michael Foster of England, the Vilmorins of France, and our own Bertrand H. Farr. It was in the nature of news to the gardeners of this country that there were such colors in the iris, and that there were so many varieties from which to choose. It has stood up through all these years. Nothing can displace it. If you have a collection of iris you need not envy the millionaire his orchids. The village and garden club of Saugatuck have just completed the planting of nearly 10,000 rhizomes of iris 5,000 were purchased by the village and 1,100 were donated by Mrs. A. N. Larson and the balance was given by our own Saugatuck citizens. The garden club is requesting everyone to plant a bed of iris in front of their homes, or in their yards where it will show from the street. Let's all make Saugatuck a garden of iris. The club is grateful to those who cooperated with them so generously."

"Horse Sense" Rules

A life insurance company has offered seven "horse sense" rules for keeping fit. The rules are not given as cure-alls but a plan for cooperating with nature in her ceaseless efforts in prolonging life and preserving health.

The seven "horse sense" rules are: Learn to play; don't eat too much; take proper exercise; don't work too hard, either mentally or physically; don't worry, fuss or lose your temper—the best tonic in the world is optimism and cheerfulness; seek some healthful amusement that diverts the mind and exercises the muscle; once a year have your family doctor examine you for health, not for disease.

Ordinarily seven rules of conduct would not be so difficult in observance but here are given seven rules which regulate every act of every day of our lives. By the exertion of a little will power we would probably not find them much worse than a stern task master in spite of the broad field they cover.

How many men and women past 30 know how to play? Are there any in this community who never over-eat? Regular exercise is observed by only a small minority.

Most people work too much or not enough. The most optimistic among us worry too much and lose our tempers too often for the good of our health. More people are, to be sure, participating in the many diversions, fads and amusements offered them by modern civilization and yet too many do not. And as for the seventh rule, where are there men and women who think of the doctor when they are well?

N. Y. A. REPLACES F. E. R. A. IN AID FOR STUDENTS

The National Youth association has been newly organized and is to take the place of the F. E. R. A. The latter organization has been in existence for a year and a half, was founded in order to aid students who were not able to pay their tuition. These students pledged to work for the college, and in this manner their money problem was solved. It is anticipated that the new association will be even more progressive than the F. E. R. A. has been in the past.

The Last Word in Air Transportation
Six Years Ago; Obsolete Now

Douglas luxury liner now used for daytime flying on transcontinental routes. Above—Ford tri-motor of the type used on the first transcontinental journey. Inset—Mr. T. W. Baile, Vice President of R. C. Williams & Co., New York, who purchased the first transcontinental air passenger ticket.

Men make history every day without realizing it, for history is reckoned in terms of time, and one man's lifetime is not usually long enough to give the proper perspective. But Mr. T. W. Baile, of New York City made history only six years ago! He purchased the first ticket issued by a transcontinental air service!

Six years ago this country experienced a tremendous awakening to the possibilities of scheduled air transportation, and the company which is now American Airlines took a step as startling to the times as the first voyage of Columbus in 1492, and established a coast to coast route, flying by day, using trains by night, and covering the distance in sixty-seven hours!

Day Flying Only

Night passenger flying was unheard of at that time; intermediate landing fields, and lighted airways had not been established.

Mr. Baile left New York by rail at 5:00 p. m. on June 14, 1929, arriving in Cleveland at 6:05 the following morning, where he breakfasted and boarded a Ford tri-motor plane, the last word in speed and luxury. He flew to Garden City, Kansas, via Chicago and Kansas City in ten hours, landing there at 5:30 p. m. He then boarded another train for the last leg of the journey, getting Vande Riet, who left today on a visit to Los Angeles, Cal., was presented a gift.

Mr. Henry Vander Worff, who celebrated his 76th birthday, was honored at a party in celebration of the occasion. Mr. Vander Worff came to Holland on March 1, 1898.

At a recent meeting of the Tolu Camp Fire group, held at the home of Mrs. Peter Van Domelen, the following officers were named: Joanne Vander Velde, president; Winifred Hensley, vice-president; Sally Dickema, secretary; Betty Ten Have, scribe, and Barbara Osborne, treasurer.

License Committee, to whom was referred the application of Clara Assenheim for license to operate a hotel in the former Kraker Building, reported having made a careful investigation and recommended that the license be granted.

Adopted.

Committee on Public Buildings reported for information of the Council that the work at the old hospital building is now practically completed; also the repairing of the boilers in the City Hall is nearly completed.

Sewer Committees reported progress on the matter of Compulsory Sewer connections.

Reports of Select Committees.

Mayor Bosch reported in regard to the promises made by the Holland Crystal Creamery to the effect that these people had lived up to their agreement and had not operated this Buttermilk Drying Unit when there was any chance of odor bothering the people in that neighborhood. However, the Mayor said, that complaints were still being received and he was informed that Mr. Andrew Klopman will guarantee to install the necessary equipment to entirely correct these odors at a cost of $125.00. Mayor Bosch recommended that this matter be referred to a committee for further investigation since he felt that if these odors could be eliminated at such a nominal expense, it was his belief that the Creamery officials would be glad to cooperate.

On motion of Alderman Bultman, seconded by Van Zoeren, matter was referred to a committee consisting of the Aldermen of the First Ward.

Alderman Vande Lune added an amendment to this motion so as to include the Mayor and City Attorney on this committee.

The Mayor then stated that he believed it would be better if he himself were not included on the committee; the Mayor suggested that Alderman Van Zoeren and Damson act with the First Ward Aldermen.

However, since there was a motion on the floor, the Aldermen called for a vote on the motion as amended, and this motion prevailed UNANIMOUSLY.

Communications from Boards and City Officers.

The claims approved by the Hospital Bd. in the sum of $3,146.61; Library Bd., $166.06; Park and Cem. Bd., $1,848.60; Police and Fire Bd., $991.59; B. P. W., $9,278.31; were ordered certified to the Council for payment. (Said claims on file in Clerk's office for public inspection.)

Allowed.

B. P. W. reported collection of $13,886.14; City Treas., $23,215.42 for miscellaneous collections; and $6,761.46 for City taxes.

Accepted.

Clerk reported interest coupons due in amount of $170.00.

Ordered paid.

Board of Assessors submitted Special Assessment Roll of C. S. C. No. 9 for the year 1935.

Filed in Clerk's office for public inspection and Clerk instructed to give notice that the Council and Board of Assessors will meet in the Council room on Wed., Nov. 6, 1935, at 7:30 p. m., to review said roll.

Clerk presented copy of telegram received from M. E. Cooley, Acting State Director for P. W. A., informing the City of Holland that the grant for a Warehouse Project had been approved. Said grant being in the amount of $33,750.00.

Alderman De Cook questioned the city's powers in the matter and asked for an opinion from the City Attorney. City Attorney Parsons reported having given the matter considerable study and thought, and it was his opinion that under our Charter, the Council is without authority to authorize such expenditure without a vote of the people.

The question then arose as to whether it would be the wish of the Board of Public Works to have the matter submitted to a vote.

After a brief discussion, and on motion of Alderman Van Zoeren, seconded by Drinkwater, Clerk was instructed to refer the telegram, together with the opinion handed down by the City Attorney, to the B. P. W. for its consideration.

Clerk presented communication from the B. P. W. reporting that the Gas Collecting System and Odor Control Project at the Sewage Disposal Plant is now completed. The report further states that the cost to the city of this Project is $9,900.04; further, that the new equipment is working very satisfactorily with a considerable improvement in the elimination of odors.

Accepted with thanks.

Motions and Resolutions.

Clerk presented a Resolution recommended by the P. W. A. relative to the paving of Van Raalte Ave. from 9th to 20th Sts. as a P. W. A. Project.

Mayor called upon the City Engineer to explain to the Aldermen the reason this Resolution was brought up at this time.

City Engineer reported that an official from the P. W. A. had called on the Mayor and himself about a month ago relative to submitting a tentative P. W. A. Project for the paving of said Van Raalte Ave. City Engineer reported that he had sent in such an application, but now the P. W. A. at Detroit is asking for considerable additional information and definite plans and specifications before they can take further action.

It was brought out in the discussion that followed that it was very probable that even if an application were submitted, it would not be approved. The Mayor stated that from information they had received it was quite evident that the P. W. A. is helping those communities that are broke, but a community like the City of Holland, which is in a good financial condition, would not be as liable to secure assistance.

The Mayor further stated, however, that he felt the Council should receive an expression from the property owners on this street to find out how they feel about it. After considerable discussion, and on motion of Alderman Steffens, seconded by Drinkwater,

It was decided to have an informal meeting of the Council and a hearing on Wed., Oct. 9th, at which time the property owners would be invited to be present and discuss with the Council the matter of having this street paved as a P. W. A. Project provided approval could be obtained from the P. W. A. to go ahead with the work.

(Note: Clerk instructed to see that notices are sent out to property owners on Van Raalte Ave. and inform them of this informal meeting.)

Adjourned. OSCAR PETERSON, City Clerk.
